

COBIX IVF

“Transforming IVF Clinic Management Through Integrated Software Innovation”

Cobix-IVF creates innovative and professional solutions for IVF processes by combining a strong consultancy team, which includes domestic and international embryologists.

COBIX IVF is a new generation in vitro fertilization software system, specially prepared for the processes of IVF clinics, helping you manage the process more accurately and easily.

- Mobile Application
- Device-Branch Integration
- Witness ID System
- Smart Incubator System
- Managing the whole process with a single application
- Multi-language Option
- No limitation for the number of users
- No extra cost for integration
- A Support Team available for 24/7
- Demand Planning
- In-Platform Mailing System
- Independent Oocyte and Semen Record Management

Our product is crucial in the evolution of fertility. Our goal is to be a central health information technology (Health IT) product and to produce a secure SaaS model product for all clinics.

It is important to manage the IVF process with sensitivity and attention, producing accurate and fast results. We provide full support with our software product for the correct management and application of the process.